

INremit

The cost effective bill payment solution for billers.

INremit™

Mail payments are still an economical payment option with INremit.

Are your per unit costs increasing as your customers continue to pay bills through the mail?

Reduce costs associated with processing mail payments with INTRIA's low-cost remittance service, INremit. Ideal for small to mid-sized billers, INremit includes all of the benefits of traditional remittance services without the expensive project management to implement the service. We offer a standardized solution that meets all of your needs. Our end-to-end bill payment service includes collection and screening of payments, data and image capture, and same-day information reporting to allow for timely settlement and reconciliation of customer accounts.

INremit offers:

- reduced costs through unit-based pricing and same-day exception item handling;
- improved cash flow with same-day processing and deposit value;
- better customer service through a higher percentage of exceptions handled and same-day delivery of payment information;
- the ability for you to focus on your core competencies;
- the opportunity to meet all of your tight processing timelines and reporting requirements; and
- cost savings by eliminating the need for investment dollars associated with operating and maintaining in-house processing.

Benefit from INTRIA's track record of processing the highest percentage of exception items. Save money with our menu-based system and low unit costs, all with a short implementation schedule!
